‘Price is what you pay but value is what you recieve’

– A quote from Warren Buffett ...

There is a difference between a Steinway and a Monington, the latest iPhone and a basic mobile handset Jimmy Choo, Manchester United, Premium and budget brands

Searching on the internet is not always easy to identify reliable, quality brands and services thats are proven, trusted, respected, global quality etc .. a piano is a piano, they may be different sizes, collars, configuration – but they all do the same job so on that basis it is easy to just compare on things like price and size ... same goes for a Gibson or Stradivarius .. try booking UB40 for the same price as Johnny and his Melody Makers – value is relative and relevant

Gary turned up when promised and setup discretely. He worked with us to incorporate little touches into our day that made it special for us, including family involvement. He was very flexible and responsive to our guests, even adapting to the spontaneous conga line that developed and sending us a video of it afterwards which was awesome. He read the room well and stayed beyond our original end time since our guests were enjoying his music so much. We've had multiple mentions since then from guests who loved his playing. Would thoroughly recommend him.

I was chosen to appear on c4 come dine with me in april. It was a Carribean themed evening and I thought what better way to entertain than to have a steel band. Gary was amazing. It was like we were really in Barbados. I honestly believe that it was because of his amazing performance that I went on to win.

Thank you so much Gary.

We have now had the pleasure of hiring Gary's Caribbean Steel Drum Band on two occasions. On both occasions our guests were very impressed, as were we and I would not hesitate to recommend them. Their music is "happy" music and with it comes the "sunshine" even though it was a rainy Saturday in May. Thank you for making my husband's birthday party one to remember.

Denise Brittaine

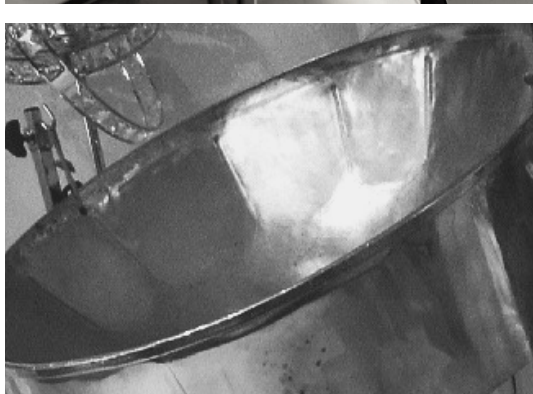

Thank you for a fantastic evening, all my guests had so much. Lovely to meet you, you were very accommodating playing anything and everything my guests Wanted to hear, so many brilliant comments. See you again I hope

The evening for our community BBQ was cool and cloudy but Gary's warm personality and the amazing variety of his caribbean steel band music brought a really sunny atmosphere to the event and put a smile on everyone's face! Just brilliant!

Thanks so much
